

Italy: This is such a comfortable boot. I think I can roam all over Europe and not get tired. Roam (Rome)

Russia: The bear is such a hit in the circus. The poor dancing cow has not seen any action for years and she's now covered with moss. She's now a moss cow. (Moscow [mos-kou])

Norway: Mrs. Ichthyus' favorite movie is Wizard of Oz. When she can't watch it, she feels very low and calls it her Wizard of Oz low. Oz low (Oslo [oz-loh])

Sweden: Mr. and Mrs. Ichthyus lives in such a cold place that they are usually stuck at home through the whole winter. At least they can stick to each other when they are stuck at home. Stuck home (Stockholm [stok-hohm])

Finland: When Mrs. Ichthyus want to distract Mr. Ichthyus from chomping on ice, she'll ask him to sing a song to her. She knows that he'll sing in key because he used to be in the choir. He'll sing in key (Helsinki [hel-sing-kee])

Iceland: Mr. and Mrs. Ichthyus' ice dispenser looks like a bird's beak and you must rake it to get ice. So if you want ice from their home, you must rake a beak. (Reykjavik [rey-kyuh-veek])

Denmark: Mr. Ichthyus has a wonderful gun that can drive a piece of hay right through a tree trunk. He always open the hay gun every time after using it to clean it. Open hay gun (Copenhagen [koh-puhn-hey-guh])

United Kingdom: The unity is undone! It's undone! The rabbit had dropped the egg. Undone (London [luhn-duhn])

Ireland: Sometimes the jackrabbit uses the basket as a washtub and as he washes the linen, he would sing, "rub-a-dub-dub, linen in the tub." Dub linen (Dublin [duhb-lin])

Portugal: Tony the seagull loves wintering in the port of gull because they serve lizard buns there. Lizard bun (Lisbon [liz-buhn])

Spain: The bad landing made her fall in pain into a mud hole. Poor Tony has mud dripping down from her head to toes. Mud drip (Madrid [muh-drid])

Andorra: Here's a note that you would not have seen during the Israelite's battle against Ai. "Dear Joshua, We left a door open for your men in ambush. Please come and burn down our city. Love, Ai" A door, love, Ai (Andorra la Vella [an-dawr-uh luh vai-yuh])

France: In the dance in France, there are many parasites who don't want to anything but to live off you. Parasite (Paris [par-is])

Germany: Tony heard that you can get rid of germs by rubbing yourself with freezing cold lint from the dryer. She tried using the freezing cold, burr, lint, but unfortunately using burr lint is just a myth. Burr lint (Berlin [ber-lin])

Poland: When Tony was up on the pole she saw two countries at war. Saw a war... saw a war... saw a war... saw. War saw (Warsaw [wawr-saw])

Estonia: "Oh Da'lin' (the gull's way of saying darling) could you go get me a snack? I can't leave the roost right now. Thank you Da'lin'" Da'lin' (Tallinn [tah-lin])

Latvia: There are a lot of v's in Tony's feather which makes her look like a queen, so regal (Riga [ree-guh])

Lithuania: Tony's claws are lethal and she calls them lethal Ann (to protect Wayne & Nia). One day when Vinnie tried to take the eggs to make breakfast, Vinnie was clawed very badly and blood started oozing from his hand. Vinnie ooze (Vilnius [vil-nee-oos])

Belarus: With the bell in the roost, there's minimal risk of sitting on her babies for too long. Minimal risk (Minsk [minsk])

Netherlands: Peter Chan likes to go to the dams in never land and stir up the water behind the dam and sing, "I am stirring the dam. I am stirring the dam." Am stir dam (Amsterdam [am-ster-dam]). Peter can get away with going to the dam because his governess usually sits in a seat all day staring into her magic egg saying, "Hey egg! Hey egg in my hand! Who's the most beautiful of them all?" Hey egg (seat of government: The Hague [heyg])

Belgium: In the gym, they consider brussel spouts as magical body building food. Brussel sprouts here, brussel sprouts there, brussel sprouts everywhere! (Brussels [bruhs-uhlz])

Luxemburg: The defeated players are all in the basement of Tinker Bell Gym waiting for better lucks and burgers (Luxembourg [luhk-shum-burg])

Austria: At least our elephant is only allergic to trees and not bees and nuts. Bee 'n nut (Vienna [vee-en-uh])

Hungary: Unfortunately our elephant's mom is a Buddhist so she offers a lot of food to the Buddha. Our hungry elephant thinks that the Buddha is simply a pest for taking so much food from the family. Buddha pest (Budapest [boo-duh-pest])

Switzerland: The elephant loves his Swiss chocolate milk heated on the stove. But his mom always seems to burn the chocolate milk. Can you smell that burnt chocolate? How sad is that! Burn (Bern [burn])

Liechtenstein: After the elephant licks and drinks he need to pay the dues for his fodder. He goes to cashier and says, "Here's my fodder dues." (Vaduz [fah-doots])

Romania: When the elephant is sitting in the row boat he likes to pick booger from his nose and rest. Booger rest (Bucharest [boo-kuh-rest])

Moldova: The moldy quiche is from Enoch who? Quiche Enoch who (Chisinau [kee-shee-nuh-oo])

